

Legislative and Political Update

Jerry Giovaniello
NAR Senior Vice-President
Government Affairs

Introduction to Government Affairs

Lobby Congress and Federal Agencies to promote and protect real estate interests

RPAC Candidate Support

- Financial
- “Boots on the Ground”

Thank You NAR Leaders

Despite one of the most challenging markets in history
RPAC is still providing us with the resources necessary to maintain our influence in Washington

How NAR Uses those Resources

- We make our friends before we need them
- We work with you, our state and local partners, to identify up and coming elected officials
- We evaluate candidates and elected officials on REALTOR[®] Party issues

Congressional Priorities Fall 2009

Tax Credit

Appropriations Bills

Health Insurance Reform

Energy Bill

NAR Plan of Action: Tax Credit

Extend and Expand:

Extend the tax credit until 2010

Expand eligibility to ALL

homebuyers

NAR Plan of Action: Appropriations

Plan of Action:

Extend higher loan limits for Fannie Mae/Freddie Mac and FHA Loans

NAR Plan of Action: Health Insurance Reform

www.realtor.org/healthreform

Plan of Action: Include NAR Principles in Debate

- Available to all
- No gaps in coverage
- Choices among plans- no single payer plan
- Preventive care- cost effective
- No employer mandate

NAR Plan of Action: Energy Bill

Plan of Action: Keep Energy Labeling For Existing Homes Out of Senate Bill

- The Senate must still pass its version
- The Senate bill should be more realistic and preserve state flexibility to develop and enforce building codes

Additional Issues

Protecting the Mortgage Interest Deduction

Fannie Mae/Freddie Mac Reinvention

Financial Services Regulatory Reform

Home Valuation Code of Conduct

- Legislation Introduced in House: need your help getting Congressional Co-Sponsors

Looking Forward to 2010

- Mid-term elections
- NAR is already gearing up to help our friends
- Government Affairs will need your advice and counsel
- Legislative and Regulatory Actions will be even more politically motivated than usual
